Forest

I have already referred to the forests of the United States and their extent, and have urged, as I do again, the removal of the limitation upon the power of the executive to reserve other tracts of land in six western states in which withdrawal for this purpose is now forbidden. The secretary of agriculture gives a very full description of the disastrous fires that occurred during the last summer in the national ferests. A drouth more intense than any recorded in the history of the west had introduced a condition into the forests which made fires almost invited disastrously to all interests.

I invite attention to the very serious regret to say that there is no provision in the law by which the expenses for their hospital treatment or of their interment could be met out of public funds. The Red Cross contributed a thousand dollars, and the remainder of the necessary expenses was made up by private contribution, chiefly from the force of the forest service and its employes. I recommend that sultable legislation be adopted to enable the secretary of agriculture to meet the moral obligations of the government in this respect.

The specific fund for fighting fires was only about $135,000, but there experts and mechanics who are now or may hereafter be employed by the government of the United States, by the District of Columbia, or by any contractor or sub-contractor on any of the public works of the United States and of the said District of Columbia, is hereby restricted to eight hours in any one calendar day, and it shall be unlawful, etc., etc.

This law has been construed to limit the application of the requirement to those who are directly employed by the government fiscal year of over $900,000.
